Hello everyone in Rack Land,

Today there is - with delay - once again a double edition. Like so many others, I had caught a nasty flu and absolutely withdrawn from circulation. Meanwhile, I am also back to some extent in voice, so that I can also deliver the monthly video for February. In the meantime, I also have the script for "What does this knob do?" Episode 14 ready and can probably upload this next week. As promised, I present all currently available envelope generators.

But now for the news.
